

WEB Production

Create your own presentation on the World Wide Web

We assist you in identifying and understanding your needs to build a professional website.

We thoroughly plan each project and closely communicate with you during each stage of the design process.

We use different content management systems which help you to actualize your website as easy as you would write an e-mail.

To achieve your complete satisfaction we stick to the following rules:

- Is it user-friendly and easy to navigate?
- Does it look good in different resolutions?
- Can it be found on search engines?
- Does it download quickly enough?
- Can 99% of the users see the website through different browsers as it is designed

Concerning all this we keep reflecting the quality of your company.

We help you to decide what you need:

- We help you developing a concept
- We can offer professional web space or help you searching another one
- We help you defining your needs (PHP, My SQL, Flash, ASP, etc…)
- We help you deciding the type of website (static, dynamic, animated, editorial, …)

For editorial pages, which consist of important text, which should be able to be found in all search engines, we consider the use of a content management system. This will give you also the ability to keep your website actual as easy as writing an e-mail.

For emotional website, with many animations and motion pictures, we consider you a FLASH page.

All other dynamic pages can be programmed in PHP or ASP and if necessary they can be connected to a database like MySQL. With this solution you can be silhouetted against all the other pages in the World Wide Web.

- We can also support your website with a specific Web-Shop or other Web-Applications
- We do the search engine submission
- If you wish we offer a consequent assistance for keeping you website up to date
